Tentative Ruling for 1/21/21:

Continue to 3/18/21 at 8:30 a.m. so that claimant can commence its contemplated adversary proceeding or the parties can reach a consensual resolution. Counsel for Debtor is cautioned about the need to exercise reasonable judgment in how much to expend in paying attorney fees instead of paying creditors. Appearances are not required on 1/21/21.

(1) Reasons for continuance

This Court has reviewed Debtor's motion (dkt. 23), the claimant's opposition (dkt. 30), and Debtor's reply (dkt. 31). Although Debtor's reply argues that the claimant has not cited authority, that puts the cart before the horse. Debtor is the objecting party and Debtor has not cited any authority that a deed of trust on real property is void or unenforceable as a matter of law when it includes the correct street address and a conflicting legal description for a particular parcel.

Alternatively, even if Debtor did not need to cite any such authority (which is incorrect), this Court's understanding of California law is contrary to Debtor's position. Based on unrelated litigation before this Court, the general rule appears to be that a transfer of an interest in property "is not void for uncertainty because of errors or inconsistency in some of the particulars of the description" if it is possible "from the whole description to ascertain and identify the land intended to be conveyed." Gyurec v. Bank of New York Trust Co., NA (Cal. Ct. App., 4th Dist., 2014) (unpublished, Case No. No. G050083) (quoting Leonard v. Osburn, 169 Cal. 157, 160 (1915)) (correct street address sufficient for deed of trust's validity, even though it incorrectly described property as located in "Township 4 North" instead of Township 4 South"). See also Cal. Code Civ. P. 2077 ("Where there are certain definite and ascertained particulars in the description, the addition of others which are indefinite, unknown, or false, does not frustrate the conveyance, but it is to be construed by the first mentioned particulars.").

Based on the foregoing, it appears appropriate to continue this hearing for the parties either to litigate the issue or, perhaps, agree to a consensual resolution.

(2) Expenditure of funds on attorney fees

Given the apparent principles of California law (summarized above), Debtor's counsel is reminded of the need to do a cost/benefit analysis in determining whether it is worth expending funds on attorney fees that otherwise would go to pay creditors. Debtor's counsel is reminded that the posted "Procedures of Judge Bason" (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) state:

§ 502: claim objections & cost/benefit analysis. When objecting to claims, be sure to include an analysis of whether the costs of preparing and litigating the claim objection (administrative expenses) do not exceed the anticipated benefits (reductions in claims). For example, if the anticipated dividend is small or 0% then the attorney fees incurred in prosecuting your claim objection to any general unsecured claim probably will exceed the benefit to the bankruptcy estate/debtor, so filing that objection would be a waste of the bankruptcy estate's (and everyone else's) resources (unless, for example, the claim is nondischargeable, in which event the attorney fees might well be justified).

Debtor's claim objection does not include any cost/benefit analysis. If Debtor decides to continue with the claim objection, this Court will set a deadline at a future hearing for Debtor's counsel to file a cost/benefit declaration.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." #9.00 Cont'd hrg re: Objection to Proof of Claim Number 4
by Claimant Jefferson Capital Systems, LLC
fr. 08/12/21

Docket 25

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 9/9/21:

Grant the objection and disallow Claim 4 in full. Appearances are not required on 9/9/21.

Proposed order: Debtor is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby adopting it as this Court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(a) Counsel may charge a reduced fee of $175.00

This Court has reviewed Counsel's cost/benefit analysis stating that he will not seek more than $175.00 for time spent in connection with this matter. Dkt. 37. Counsel appears to be correct that authorizing a reduced fee of $175.00 will result in a net benefit to the estate of $116.70, because Debtor's confirmed Plan proposes a 100% dividend to general unsecured creditors. See Dkt. 18 & 28.

This Court notes that even with that voluntary cap, a net benefit to the bankruptcy estate and Debtor are not assured. If circumstances were to change, and Debtor later seeks to modify his Plan due to a material change in his income or expenses, then it is possible that Counsel will have been paid 100% of his administrative claim and the net benefit of the Claim Objection might be de minimus or actually result in a lower payment to general unsecured creditors.

Nevertheless, on this record, this Court is prepared to find that the cost/benefit analysis sufficiently establishes some benefit to the estate for purposes of the posted Procedures of Judge Bason (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) regarding claim objections, so this Court's limitation on fees in the prior tentative ruling on this matter is hereby vacated and Counsel is authorized to charge $175.00 in fees.

Tentative Ruling for 8/12/21:

Continue to 9/9/21 at 8:30 a.m. to address the following issues. Appearances are not required on 8/12/21.

Reasons:

Lack of cost/benefit analysis. The posted Procedures of Judge Bason (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) provide:

§ 502: claim objections & cost/benefit analysis. When objecting to claims, be sure to include an analysis of whether the costs of preparing and litigating the claim objection (administrative expenses) do not exceed the anticipated benefits (reductions in claims). For example, if the anticipated dividend is small or 0% then the attorney fees incurred in prosecuting your claim objection to any general unsecured claim probably will exceed the benefit to the bankruptcy estate/debtor, so filing that objection would be a waste of the bankruptcy estate's (and everyone else's) resources (unless, for example, the claim is nondischargeable, in which event the attorney fees might well be justified).

No later than 7 days after the date of this hearing the movant must file either:

(1) a supplemental declaration explaining why the attorney fees for this objection are justified (including supporting evidence, such as a copy of the plan showing the projected dividend to the claimant, and a calculation comparing that projected dividend against the attorney fees related to this claim objection), or

(2) a withdrawal of the claim objection.

No fees on this matter, absent specific authorization. Counsel is directed not to charge any fees on this matter (including all past, present and future work related to this claim objection), immediately withdraw the fee application filed 7/15/21 (dkt. 34) and return any fees received on this matter, unless and until this Court expressly finds: "Counsel has provided a cost/benefit analysis that is sufficient for purposes of Judge Bason's posted Procedures regarding claim objections." It is counsel's responsibility to include the quoted phrase, if warranted, in the proposed order on this claim objection.

This Court does not have the capacity to monitor all fee applications to assure compliance with the foregoing limitation on fees. But if counsel is found to have disregarded this limitation then this Court may impose sanctions.

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 9/9/21:
Appearances required.

This matter was continued to this date to allow time for the junior lienholder to obtain an appraisal of the subject property. There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address why no appraisal has been filed as of the time this tentative ruling was prepared (it was due 8/25/21 per the adopted Tentative Ruling for 7/22/21, reproduced below), and how they propose to resolve their disputes - e.g., (i) with an evidentiary hearing; (ii) with a court ruling based solely on the written record (to save costs, if all parties consent), (iii) through mediation, or (iv) through appointment of an appraiser (jointly selected by the parties/their appraisers) as the court's own expert under FRE 706.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see the Posted Procedures of Judge Bason (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Tentative Ruling for 7/22/21:

Continue to 9/9/21 at 8:30 a.m. to address the following issues. Appearances are not required on 7/22/21.

Reasons:

Appraisal; date of valuation. The junior lienholder has requested (dkt. 25) additional time to obtain an appraisal. Debtor is directed to provide reasonable access for that purpose. The junior lienholder is directed to file and serve the appraisal at least 14 days before the continued hearing. Note: Judge Bason's tentative ruling is to require valuations at or near the petition date. See In re Gutierrez, 503 B.R. 458 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2013).

At the continued hearing the parties should address how they propose to resolve their disputes - e.g., (i) with an evidentiary hearing; (ii) with a court ruling based solely on the written record (to save costs, if all parties consent), (iii) through mediation, or (iv) through appointment of an appraiser (jointly selected by the parties/their appraisers) as the court's own expert under FRE 706.
